Independent Auditor’s Report

To the Members of Central Lake Ontario Conservation Fund

Opinion
We have audited the financial statements of Central Lake Ontario Conservation Fund (the Fund), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2019, and the statements of changes in net assets, operations and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Fund as at December 31, 2019, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion
We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements
Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Fund’s ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Fund’s financial reporting process.

Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements
Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor’s report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund’s internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management’s use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund’s ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor’s report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor’s report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Central Lake Ontario Conservation Fund
Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2019

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Business
The Central Lake Ontario Conservation Fund was established on May 6, 1997 under letters patent as a corporation without share capital. The corporation’s registered charitable number is 87804 9360 RR0001.

The purpose of the Fund is to generate revenue, through fundraising and donations, which will be used exclusively by the Central Lake Ontario Conservation Authority, for the purposes of preserving, protecting, restoring and improving the natural resources and environment of the Central Lake Ontario watersheds. The Authority exercises significant influence over the Central Lake Ontario Conservation Fund by virtue of its common board members.

Basis of Accounting
The financial statements have been prepared using Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Revenue Recognition
Revenues and expenses are recorded on the accrual basis of accounting. The Fund follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Endowment contributions are recognized as direct increases in net assets in the current period. Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

In Kind Donations
Receipts are provided for in kind donations as per guidelines established by Canada Revenue Agency. In kind donations are supported by appraisals when required for land and personal property.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
Cash and cash equivalents consist of bank balances and short-term deposits with maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

Contributions Receivable
Contributions receivable are recognized as an asset when the amounts to be received can be reasonably estimated and ultimate collection is reasonably assured.

Financial Instruments
Financial Instruments are recorded at fair value at initial recognition.

In subsequent periods, equities traded in an active market and derivatives are reported at fair value, with any change in fair value reported in income. All other financial instruments are reported at cost or amortized cost less impairment. Transaction costs on the acquisition, sale or issue of financial instruments are expensed for those items measured at fair value and charged to the financial instrument for those measured at amortized cost.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Financial Instruments (continued) Financial assets are tested for impairment when indicators of impairment exist. When a significant change in the expected timing or amount of the future cash flows of the financial asset is identified, the carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced and the amount of the write-down is recognized in net income. A previously recognized impairment loss may be reversed to the extent of the improvement, provided it is not greater than the amount that would have been reported at the date of the reversal had the impairment not been recognized previously, and the amount of the reversal is recognized in net income.

2. Cash and Short-Term Investments

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Short-term deposits are comprised of commercial paper from chartered banks with effective interest rates of 1.75% and mature in January 2020 and March 2020. Preferred share investments are quoted at market value.

3. Deferred Contributions

Changes in the deferred contribution balance is as follows:

<thead>
<tr>

In 2014, the Fund received a $2,000,000 contribution that is subject to externally imposed restrictions. $1,500,000 of the balance must be maintained permanently and is restricted for endowment purposes. The remaining balance and the investment income earned from the total contribution is restricted to cover the costs of managing and administering a property owned by Central Lake Ontario Conservation Authority, an organization which exercises significant influence over the Fund by virtue of its common board members.

4. Deferred Revenue

At the year end, the Fund had received but not earned revenue in the amount of $23,007 (2018 - $23,007) from projects. Revenue will be brought into income as project expenditures are incurred.

F12
5. Related Party Transactions

The Central Lake Ontario Conservation Authority exercises significant influence over the Fund by virtue of its common board members. The Fund was established to raise funds and obtain resources for the exclusive use of the Authority. During the year, the Fund contributed $73,000 (2018 - $72,000) towards projects in the Authority.

6. Financial Instrument Risk

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. The Fund is exposed to credit risk resulting from the possibility that a counterparty to a financial instrument defaults on their financial obligations; if there is a concentration of transactions carried out with the same counterparty or of financial obligations which have similar economic characteristics such that they could be similarly affected by changes in economic conditions.

All of the Fund’s cash and short-term investments are held at one of the major financial institutions and one investment company.

There have not been any changes in the risk from the prior year.

Other price risk

Other price risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices, whether those changes are caused by factors specific to the individual financial instrument or its issuer, or factors affecting all similar financial instruments traded in the market. The Fund is exposed to other price risk through its investments in preferred shares.

Subsequent to year end, COVID-19 has had a significant effect on the financial markets. The Fund’s investments in preferred shares (Note 2) measured at fair value are reported in these financial statements at their values on December 31, 2019. The financial markets have declined substantially subsequent to the year-end. The Fund’s portfolio is also experiencing similar declines in value. This may impact the amount of services the Fund is able to provide in the future.

7. Subsequent Events

Subsequent to year end, the impact of COVID-19 in Canada and on the global economy increased significantly. If the disruption of COVID-19 continues, there could be further impact on the Fund and its members, suppliers and other third party business associates that could affect the timing and amounts realized on the Fund’s assets and future operations. The extent of any future impact on the Fund’s investments or operations as a result of COVID 19 is unknown.
